

The Village Winemaker

Thoughts from ... The Village Winemaker

The Village Winemaker, Me “John” has been very busy making Village Wine Cellars.

Some, but not all of you know, that I run a successful Wine Cellar business as well. We design and build wine cellars both for private homes and commercial establishments. We started growing the business 19 years ago and steadily over the years the business has grown. We are now busier than we have ever been before. I’m a people person and the social aspect of my character is definitely satisfied by my work at The Village Winemaker, creating relationships with my customers. How can you not be social when you are discussing the possibilities for the perfect wine selection. It’s the best part of the job! But my creative side really gets a boost when I’m designing what will be a spectacular show piece for someone’s home or business. Or when I’m in the workshop with Vito, our Designer, building, creating our own wine racking system from scratch. It’s a labor of love for sure and why I wanted to share it with you! I am so very blessed to have two parallel careers that get me jazzed and bring me so much satisfaction! I’ve included some pictures of my recent projects.

So here’s to more wine making and more wine “cellar” creating!
Cheers,

John Seaga

A Note From Liz...

I want to remind everyone that our website, thevillagewinemaker.ca is current. You can always find our activities, events, latest photos, etc., there. We also have a presence on Facebook: facebook.com/thevillagewinemaker and we'd like to thank those customers that have begun following us. We'd like even more input! So next time you are at one of our events and you've taken some photos or have something to share we'd love for you to take to social media and share the great experience you had with us! The Village Winemaker really is a Village, a community, made up of our fabulous customers! We are on Instagram too and I'll be starting to tweet on twitter! It's definitely a fun way to communicate and bring our extended family together! So let's get busy with those "Likes" and "Shares" On Facebook!!!

Looking forward to chatting with you in the shop, Liz
