

The Village Winemaker

Thoughts from ... The Village Winemaker Happy New Year!

Wow, can you believe we are at the start of a new year! It feels like just yesterday I was writing the "Happy New Year 2016" newsletter. Time flies when you're having fun and we've had plenty of that this year, in and out of the shop.

My brother, Stephen was in from Sanoma, California and spent the Christmas Holidays with us. Diets were forgotten as he is one great cook and served us up some delicious meals! He certainly topped himself when on New Year's eve he served up barbeque suckling pig. He and I actually made a "Caja" pig roasting box. In addition, we had turkey and Gumbo! As you can imagine, eating was a recurrent theme during his visit. It was great sharing the holidays with him and my boys loved having their uncle Stephen around.

The New Year has also brought with it a new member to our family. Meet "Georgia"! She's a coton du tular and the cutest puppy ever! She seems happy to be part of this very busy household with two very energetic boys who love her very much!

I've been so jazzed about the success of Village Wine Cellars. Our custom wine cellar designs have been well received and we continue to grow. It has taken me away from the shop a bit more than I'd like as I miss seeing you all. They'll be plenty of events in the coming months and I hope you'll drop in. I'm lucky to have Liz looking after the front of the house and Peta the back with production. It feels great knowing these ladies are so able to run things when I can't be at the shop. The feedback has been really positive and I know you are in good hands.

As we move forward into 2017 I want to wish you all Health, Happiness and Prosperity!

Cheers,

John Seaga

A Note From Liz...

Happy New Year Friends!

It's always fun to start a new year here at The Village Winemaker. We commence the year with a meeting of the minds, so to speak. John and I talk about the good and the bad of 2016 and using all that we have learned from the previous year, we brainstorm ways in which we can make the craft winemaking experience for our customers even better in 2017. From in store activities and events to the experience here in the shop when you are making or bottling your wine. It's important that you leave here feeling great about your interaction with us. John and I are always open to your suggestions and feedback. Our number one priority is you, our valued customer!

So in the new year, I see my role as making sure your experience is a positive one. I look forward to serving up some treats every now and then. I know the chocolate we were serving up over the holidays was enjoyed. As always, I happy to brew up some coffee or tea. "Le Nez du Vin", a fun game and learning tool for you wine enthusiasts will be out for you to try. You'll continue to get that reminder call the day before your bottling and I'm happy to take your wine kit orders over the phone.

So let's make 2017 a great year, full of positive experiences, good friends and great wine!

Enjoy,

Liz
